The First State Bank

AND TRUST COMPANY

Bryan, Texas

Respectfully calls your attention to part of the speech delivered before the State Bankers at Dallas, Jan. 22nd, 1910, by Hon. T. B. Love, Commissioner of Banking
of the State of Texas:

NO LONGER AN EXPERIMENT.

"I think it can be fairly said that the State banking system of Texas is no longer an experiment; that it has proven its efficiency and has come to stay. But it is not alone in the splendid growth of the State banking system of Texas in its present numerical and financial strength that the State bankers and people of Texas have a right to feel distinct pride, as in my judgment it is not these things which measure the real excellence of a banking system. The real question, the paramount consideration, is and should be what advantage does the Texas State banking system offer to the public? What protection is given to the depositor who is invited by the laws of the State and by the State bankers operating under these laws to leave his money on deposit with State banks, to be used, it is true, for the benefit of the public and the convenience of the depositor, but also for the profit of the banker. The answer, I think, of any candid student of the subject must be that the banking laws of Texas and the system and methods of supervision being employed in obedience to its provisions contain every important safeguard that is contained in the National banking laws, or that is provided for the National banking system, or that obtains in any other system of banking known in the American Republic, and that it contains many recognized and proven protective measures of undoubted and unquestionable value, which are unknown to any other system.

THE GUARANTY LAW.

"As the result of the provisions of the guaranty law, there is in the depositors' guaranty fund at this time in cash the sum of $368,396.20, of which one-fourth, or $92,076.55, is held in gold by the State Treasurer, and the remaining three-fourths is deposited with the various banks contributing to the fund, subject to check upon the order of the State Banking Board.

"Under the provision permitting assessments before referred to, approximately double the amount of the existing fund, or $736,812.40, can be realized upon the order of the State Banking Board in addition to the cash in the fund to pay the losses to depositors accruing during any one year. Thus the total amount which the Banking Board has at its command and which can be realized in cash during the year 1910 for the payment of depositors in closed State banks is $1,104,918.60, and this amount is being constantly augmented by the organization of new State banks.

"As a result of the provision for additional payments by each bank of one-fourth of 1 per cent of its average deposits on or before Jan. 1, 1911, the cash resources of the State Banking Board will be augmented on that date by not less than 25 per centum of their present amount, and on Jan. 1 of each year thereafter these resources will be again augmented by at least 25 per centum of their present amount until the total cash in the depositors' guaranty fund shall reach the sum of $2,000,000, when the total cash resources of the State Banking Board available for the payment of depositors during any one year will approximate three times that amount, or $6,000,000.

On basis of above Statement we solicit our

FORTY-FOUR SOULS SAVED

The Great Tabernacle Revival is Growing and Gaining in Strength Daily.

Despite the frightful sand storm last night the tabernacle was filled with a great audience to hear the gospel. The music was the best we have yet had during the meeting, Mr. Ferguson leading some good old-fashioned songs which were sung with great power.

The report of the prayer meetings was inspiring, there being 262 in attendance upon the various prayer services yesterday afternoon.

In the testimony meeting people stood in all parts of the house and said a word for Jesus. The old who had been on the journey a long time stood and testified that they were not tired of the journey. Many of the children just beginning their Christian life told of the joy in their hearts.

Evangelist Adair spoke on the "The Things Which Cause Us to Lose Faith," and said in part:

"Men and women let many things creep in to rob them of their Christian experience. One thing is self-indulgence. We begin by saying I can't go to church today for I don't feel good, but I will go tonight and so on you go until you lose all interest in religion.

"Another fellow goes to church to criticize. He don't like the way the preacher combs his hair, or wears his coat, etc. Many say they don't preach like they used to. How do you know you haven't been there to hear? You may have been to a funeral where they buried some old stiff who had died and gone to hell. There is nothing about a funeral which will make a man shout.

"Many others fail to pray and read the Bible. The man who fails to pray is neglecting a duty which is of the greatest importance to his Christian life. We hear some of these fellows talking about the decline of religion. Don't you be so silly as to believe what some old booze fighter has to say about the bible. All you have to do is to just stay up against the Bible long enough. It will fix your clock.

"People fail to testify. You can do this in many ways. You often deny Christ by the company you keep. You have gotten off with the wrong gang. Why don't you stop running with this gang and be a man? Others run off after other people's idea of religion. I have never seen any of them that were worth killing. They go off and never come back.

"I am interested in whether you have confessed your sins. You are willing to get up and say I am a bad man and wish I was better and I hope I will hold out faithful. You old stiff, why don't you say my sin is drinking whiskey. You won't forgive your enemies. Why have you got it in for anybody? Who are you, any how, that people should carry you around. What is the use of you lying about not going to church. You say I am feeling bad when you know you have been well all the time.

If you want to have faith in God you must work for Christ. If you want to have joy go to work for God. If your life is not what it ought to be, come back to God and confess it."

There was a great service this morning. The house was almost full. There were sixteen conversions this morning.

A great revival is now on in Bryan. If you have not been attending, come and get into the good work. Services every morning at 10 o'clock except Saturday, and every evening at 7:30 o'clock.

"COMET A 1910" IS SPLITTING UP

Prof Gould Has Made Another Interesting Discovery.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 28.—According to Prof. Gould, head of the department of astronomy at the University of Washington, the "Comet A, 1910," which is visible in the western sky just after the sunset, shows signs of splitting in two.

SMALLEST MAN IN WORLD IS DYING

Pneumonia Has Finally Crippled Reuben Steere.

Putnam, Conn., Jan. 28.—Reuben Steere, whom Barnum called the smallest man in the world, is dying of pneumonia at his home near here. He is now 72 years of age. He weighs 55 pounds and is 47 inches in height. He married Miss Annie Myer, another Lilliputian, in 1887.

PROGRESS OF WORK ON CITY HALL.

The tanners have begun the work of putting the tin roof on the new city hall and opera house. A large force of carpenters are at work on the interior finishings, floors, ceilings, etc. The calaboose, which is located under the dressing rooms in the rear of the buildings, is about completed. A large excavation was made under the building and the brick walls will form the walls of the calaboose. An iron grating with a door extends across the center of the room and back of this is the calaboose proper. A grated window admits air and light. There is an excavation outside the building with concrete steps leading down to the door of the calaboose. It is nicely located, convenient and will be much better in every way than the old one.
